

We need some support in our translation office in Nuremberg.

Our office is in the heart of Nuremberg. We are a team of translators working here at the office and also work with many freelance translators. This enables us to offer our customers full service for all European languages.

We seek:

English native speakers who would like to work in a translation office.

Erasmus students are very welcome for periods between 6 and 12 months.

Your tasks:

- Translations GER-EN
- Proof reading of translations
- Project management, general office work

Your qualifications:

- You are English native speaker
- You are currently studying translation or have already finished your studies
- You have good command of German in speech and writing
- Very good knowledge of MS Office

Your profile:

- You are outgoing and like working as part of a team
- You are flexible, reliable and can cope with sometimes heavier workload
- You can work between 20 and 40 hours a week

The salary would be about € 400 per month.

For further information about our office and our team got to www.hudde.eu or to our Facebook page.

Please send your written application to info@hudde-uebersetzungen.de